Republican State Convention.

The Republicans of Maine are almost unanimously opposed to the proposition to call a State Convention to be held at the present time, ostensibly for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and other State officers, but really to make a party platform for the coming Congressional campaign.

GRANITE HALL, AUGUSTA,

Thursday, Aug. 9th, 1877, at 11 A. M.

The purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and other State officers, and of adopting such other measures as may be deemed expedient by the Convention, will be fully carried out by the Republicans of Maine, if they shall be represented in the State Convention by men who are in favor of the Resumption of Specie Payments, and who are opposed to the Democratic party, which has been the party of Rebellion, Repudiation, and Disunion.

The Democratic party, in its National Convention, has declared in favor of Repudiation, and has nominated for Governor of Maine a man who is a Rebel in his sympathies, and who, if he had his way, would place the Rebel Brigadiers of the Confederacy in the Cabinet, and would place the Rebel Generals in the Army and Navigation, and would place the Rebel Colonels in the Navy, and would place the Rebel Privates in the Navy, and would place the Rebel Sailors in the Navy, and would place the Rebel Marines in the Navy, and would place the Rebel Soldiers in the Army, and would place the Rebel Officers in the Army, and would place the Rebel Generals in the Army

REPORTS FROM ALL POINTS.

PENNSYLVANIA

A Fight at Johnstown

PHILADELPHIA July 28 Persons who arrived this morning at midnight train from Pittsburg state that when the detachments of the 3d and 9th artillery commanded by Col Hamilton which left here yesterday reached Johnstown on the Pennsylvania road the train was stoned and fired upon by the mob at that place and several soldiers wounded The regulars disembarked in daylight and, in which a number of rioters were killed Troops reinforced at that point The 9th regiment composed of veteran leaves Philadelphia equipped

The Miners Strike

NEW YORK July 28 A Plymouth Pa dispatch says the miners in this vicinity have struck against a reduction of 10 per cent and some 5 000 are in that vicinity possible Several small collieries manned by Germans refused to join the strikers when a heavy fight ensued but few engineers were driven away Dispatches from Easton Pottston and Wilkesbarre refer to the strike of 5 000 miners and say much suffering will ensue

A Gang of Strikers Bagged.

A special from Pittsburg says this morning Gen Hamilton with 150 regulars arrived and their arrival caused a sensation inasmuch as they brought with them some fifty strikers as prisoners As the train approached Johnstown during the night the strikers misplaced the wedges of the switch which threw the cars from the track resulting in injuries to one soldier and to the engineer Gen Hamilton deployed his men at once, and before the crowd of strikers were aware of the movement the regulars captured about fifty and surrounding them kept the others at bay In this position they awaited new trains and soon after started with their prisoners for this city pilfered the captured rioters were placed in the arsenal to await action of the United States Government.

The Most Serious Trouble

at the road was at Johnstown As the second section of the train passed the depot at that place it was attacked by a great mob armed with stones and pieces of metal which were thrown at the windows with telling effect Volley after volley was poured into the train, breaking the windows and injuring a number of soldiers as the train moved on The oldsters defended the attack to the last The most serious trouble was after the train had passed beyond the depot some distance At this point the patience of the commanding officer Col Hamilton gave way and reaching up he pulled the bell rope to stop the train The engineer and firemen were under a strong guard of soldiers and they at once reversed the engine In all probability this saved the lives of half on board the train for at the point just in front of the train the switch had be misplaced and a car heavily laden with fire bricks placed on the switch for the fast approaching train to run into and be thrown over the embankment When the train struck the switch its speed had been greatly slackened, but the engine, tender and five cars, two baggage and two passenger left the track and came in contact with the car of brick with such force that the rails and ties were torn off the ties carried up in a mass of ruins at the bottom of one car rested on the roof of another and three were thrown completely round and lay crosswise on the track with the car of brick crushed and splintered topping all Col Hamilton of the artillery was severely injured in the side and others were badly bruised by the concussion The soldiers of the wrecked train remained at the stilts, until six this morning The third section of the train was detained above the depot by the wreck and were several times attacked by the mob The soldiers of the wrecked train threw out a picket line and succeeded in arresting 100 of the rioters Of this number 75 or more will be brought to this city with the military this evening

The troops which came through on the first train and arrived here this morning did not have any serious trouble. At several points along the road the strikers were out in force but offered no resistance to the passage of trains The first train which arrived in this city presented a formidable appearance In front of the two engines was a gondola car on which a mounted gatling was defended by a detachment of State Fencibles The engineers and firemen on the locomotives were under strong guard, the soldiers having orders to shoot them if there was the slightest hesitation in discharging their duties

Troops at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, July 28. At 8 this morning four trains over the Pennsylvania road arrived from the East with the State troops under Gov Hartranft. The first train stopped at Lawrenceville station, and from there to Mullvale the cars are stretched along the track, all filled with soldiers They comprise Gen Brinton's division Gen Gallagher's division, Gen. Harry White's division and three batteries of regulars Other trains are en route from the East bringing two companies of regulars and another body of militia, and it is estimated that before evening there will be 4,000 troops here. It was expected they would arrive last evening, but owing to obstruction on the road the trains have to run very slowly.

The Pennsylvania Road.

PHILADELPHIA July 29 The President of the Pennsylvania Railroad makes the following announcement. The Pennsylvania Railroad and its branches are open for freight as well as passengers from Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York to points as far as Altoona on the main line, to Kane on the Philadelphia & Erie road, to Buffalo via Emporium route, and to Elmira and Canandaigua on the Northern Central road. This territory comprises the Clearfield and Broad top the Blossburg coal region and an anthracite region tributary to the Northern Central road. They expect to have their main line open to Pittsburg and Philadelphia, and Erie road to-morrow, and their lines west of Pittsburg Monday

Very Mild

WILKESBARRE, July 28, The situation is unchanged The miners have stopped The mine is being flooded The strikers allowed an engine to run over the Lehigh & Susquehanna road to-day to carry Judge Paxson to Philadelphia to hold Supreme Court, Monday No mails have arrived here since Thursday until this evening when two bags from New York which had reached Scranton, were brought here by pony express

All Quiet

MAUCH CHUNK, July 28. Everything is quiet and the railroads have made no attempt to start trains. The miners of Summit Hill hold a meeting to-night

NEW YORK.

Railroad Economy.

NEW YORK July 28 At Saratoga yesterday Vanderbilt said he never knew what his road could do in the way of economy until the hard times taught him One engine now does the work of two The present freight rate would have been laughed at three years ago Business has fallen off from 80 trains per day to 30 If his employes suffered during the depression they would share in renewed prosperity Crops are good and if the prospective European demand is realized business will revive and bring better wages If the first outlook had been as good as now it is possible there would have been no reduction

Various Reports

NEW YORK, July 28 Advices from the Canada Southern Railroad are received to the effect that the road will be closed until quite prevails To-day the running of freight trains commences on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad The Superintendent of the Michigan Central telegraphs that the road is opened the entire length for freight Officials at the New York Central are apprehensive that the troubles are not yet over and may break on the withdrawal of the militia

To Meet Famine

All anxiety concerning the possibility of a meat famine in this city is groundless A reporter visited the great cattle yards at the foot of Sixth street, North River and there ascertained that 130 car-loads of Western cattle in good condition are expected to arrive from Buffalo to-morrow and 13 more car loads will be shipped from Albany to-morrow for this city There is therefore every prospect of a bountiful supply Dealers believe within ten days the market will be overstocked as every body is hurrying cattle to New York

Rumors of Riot and Bloodshed

ALBANY, July 28 Governor Robinson reviewed the troops this morning when they were all dismissed Immediately after other orders came for troops to hold themselves in readiness for any emergency as it reported the strikes threatened and have taken possession of the West Albany shop driving out the workmen Sheriff Wemple and posse went out immediately and now his possession of all the railroad property there The city is again active with rumors of riot and bloodshed The troops are under arms awaiting orders

WASHINGTON N J July 28 The Phillipsburg freight train of the Lackawanna road remains here in charge of its officers The strikers say they will hold till committee reports after the interview with President Sloan If it is unfavorable to the strikers they will continue to hold it but if favorable they will release it

A Heavy Force of Strikers

JERSEY CITY, July 28 At Phillipsburg there are over 2 000 bona fide strikers with fully as many more persons out of work who sympathize and would fight with them At Washington there are 400 strikers and as many outsiders while at Oxford three miles away, are 1 000 miners who notified the strikers they would drop work and join them when necessary The three places are within a radius of 12 miles and the strikers have railroads engines and cars at their command so that fully 5 000 men can be massed in half an hours notice

Letter from Northport

DAMON COTTAGES, July 27 1877

Mr Editor —With the cool salt sea breeze lovingly caressing us the incoming waves plashing musically on the beach at our very feet, and the broad, beautiful Penobscot bay, framed in shore and islands, stretched out placidly and peacefully before us, I select my best Faber No 2 and proceed to scribble

Splendid so beautiful so magnificent view, the most beautiful I have ever seen, etc are among the exclamations constantly coming from the lips and hearts of visitors to this, local by as they obtain the first view of the beautiful scenery from Damon Cottages just below the wharf, at the campground or wherever it is more appropriate and poetical title Weslayan Grove.

The view from this point is indeed magnificent In front, at the very feet of the Cottages, is the beach curving inward in each direction upon which the waves dash and roll in frothy violence on the rocks if the wind is fresh and gusty or else, if calm, come in broad, slow heavings which die in gentle, rippling plashings on the absorbent sands A short distance up the shore is the campground with its white tents and cottages gleaming from their leafy coverts and the steamboat wharf piercing the blue waters of the bay like the tongue of some huge angelic monster while further up the shore is lined with cottages till Belfast is seen with its church spires clearly cut against the Northern horizon Passing across and down the other shore the villages of Searsport and Stockton are seen with Brigadier Island at their feet while across the broad expanse of the bay due east, repose Castine—historic ground—with its background of distant mountains seen dimly through the blue summer haze Fort Point and Castine lights are prominent points, especially at night and to the southward Turtle Head is the extremity of but one of the many beautiful islands which dot the ocean in that direction as if unite in making Penobscot Bay one of the safest harbors as well as the most lovely sheet of water known

All this and much more which only the artist experience can describe is presented to the second before me as I write these lines I only wish I could do justice to the subject But enough of this for a profane pen is apt to offer to minor interesting first impressions

The season has now fairly opened at Weslayan Grove The cottages are all occupied and all which our inquiries have satisfactorily received for some months have already been built this year and there are four more which are put up before Campmeeting The new cottages are built by B F Ferrin of Bucksport J Monks and W C Little of Belfast and A Clement of Stockton the latter in the Gothic style and the most of them in the grounds and Trinity Grove is up to date about all that a large number of improvements are constantly being made which add to the value and beauty of the place and the convenience and comfort of the visitors and residents There are streets have been built and the circle and toria are being enclosed and seated with improved seats which looks an inductive improvement and lending much to the grounds

The Weslayan Grove House on the grounds and the management of B F Brown with its superior venison and other on excellent provisions very popular with visitors Connected with it or near by is a post office barber shop photographic saloon livery stable etc and a good hack runs regularly twice a day to Belfast connecting with the trains The means of communication are superior as besides the trains and Boston steamers via Belfast only three miles distant the steamer City of Belfast touches at the wharf at the grounds daily and several small steamers and passenger conveyances coming and going

Hardly a day passes but one or more excursions arrive It is the most central beautiful and convenient place for excursions to be found anywhere in this part of Maine and will grow more popular every year

The first regular public meeting of the season on the grounds will come off next Friday August 3 when the Good Templars of Waldo county will hold the autumn session of their County Lodge It will be a basket picnic session to which all Good Templars are invited, and buses do those from Waldo county which number some 2 000 There will be excursions from the Lodges in Camden Rockland and probably Bangor Many of the leading Good Templars of the State including Governors Dingley and Perham will be present and address the meeting and if the day is fair it will be the largest gathering of the Order ever held in Maine

Campmeeting will commence August 2 and continue a week Religious services are held on the ground each Sabbath Last week they were conducted by Rev Mr Parker of Belfast, next Sabbath Rev Mr Moore will officiate, and in two weeks there will be preaching by Rev Mr Forsythe of Bucksport

But I have reached the end of my space and probably of your patience so advising you to spend your next vacation day at this pleasant seaside resort if you like quiet good fishing fine sailing salt water bathing and magnificent scenery I remain yours lazily,

OVER AND OVER AGAIN

Over and over again,
So sad a path is my lot to win,
I stumble and I fall into the ditch of life
Some lessons I have to learn
I must take my turn at the mill,
I must grind out the golden grain,
I must work my task with a resolute will
Over and over again.

We cannot measure the need
Of even the tiniest flower,
Nor check the flow of the golden seeds
That run through a single hour.
But the morning dew must fall,
And the sun and the summer rain
Must do their part, and perform it all
Over and over again

Over and over again
The brook flows through the meadow flow,
And over and over again
The bendrous milk-weed goes
One thing will not satisfice,
Though doing be not in vain,
And a blessing failing as once or twice
May come if we try again.

The path that has once been trod
Is never so rough to feel,
And the lesson we once have learned
Is never to fail to repeat.
Though sorrowful tears may fall,
And the heart is deep in its gloom
With storm and tempest, we must them all
To render us more fit for heaven.
